Library Development Services Bureau

Library Directory Listings

Each year the State Library sends annual report forms to California's academic, public, special, state agency, and county law libraries. Directory listings are published in this document; statistical data from those reports are tabulated in a companion volume, California Library Statistics. Although the statistics program and these publications are promoted as widely as we can, participation for most is voluntary (public libraries are required by the Education Code to report annually to the State Librarian) and some choose not to do so. This makes the state summary less than complete.

California cooperates with the Institute for Museum and Library Services in the collection of uniform public library statistical data nationwide for national compilation and publication.

FISCAL YEAR 2006 - 2007

For this fiscal year four hundred and twenty five libraries of all types submitted data to this program. We estimate there are at least 1,000 libraries in operation in California, exclusive of school libraries, so data in this publication is about 42% complete this year.

By type of library, those reporting data and included in this statistics publication are:

181 public libraries:

- * By jurisdiction, there are 46 county, 117 city, 12 district and 6 Joint Power Authority public libraries.

By level of service, in this fiscal year, California public libraries included:

- * 1,980 total public service points, including mobile library service stops.
- * 167 main libraries. Administrative headquarters are not included, and some county or district libraries have no main library.
- * 631 branch libraries. A branch is an extension library open some part of each of five days a week, has at least 1,400 square feet of floor space, a general book collection of at least 7,000 volumes, and is staffed with the equivalent of at least one librarian and one clerical employee during hours open for service.

- * 314 library stations. A station is a library structure smaller than a branch, providing a lower level of service.
- * There are 63 mobile libraries operated by 42 libraries with 868 mobile library stops. A mobile library stop is a location visited by a bookmobile or other traveling library.
- * Combining main, branch, station and the number of mobile libraries, there are 1,175 public library outlets reported. Excluding mobile libraries there are 1,112 library outlets.

A few libraries are officially known by memorial or other names, but are shown here alphabetically by their city or district site.

The California State Library - At Your Service

The California State Library, a California public research institution, provides its customers with the accurate, up-to-date information they need to do their jobs easily, quickly, and confidently. Whether you are an elected official, a state employee, a representative of one of California's libraries, a person with special reading needs or a member of the general public, the California State Library is here for you. Our staff, including librarians, researchers, and consultants are at your service.

What We Do

The 157-year old California State Library serves the people of California in several ways:

- It is the central reference and research library for state government and the Legislature.
- It provides non-partisan research to the Legislature and the Governor.
- It collects, preserves, generates and disseminates information ranging from California's priceless historical items to today's online texts.
- It advises, consults with, and provides technical assistance to California's public libraries, and it directs state and federal funds to support local public libraries and statewide library programs, and services.

Some History

In 1850, California's new legislature, seeing that the state's facts, figures, and documents needed to be in a central location, established the California State Library in the State Capitol. In 1917, the California State Library established the Sutro Library in San Francisco from the private library of Adolph Sutro.

Get Informed Online With the California State Library

Today's customers increasingly turn to the California State Library's website for research reports, circulation services, grant information, photos, statistics, helpful links, digitized books for the visually-impaired, and a blog. (State employees can also access news databases from their home PCs.) We invite you to explore our newly updated website, and discover the perfect page for your information needs.

As we continue to streamline our online services, we welcome your feedback. Please send us an email and let us know how we can make it easier for you to get what you need.

CALIFORNIA STATE DOCUMENT DEPOSITORY LIBRARIES

Under the provisions of the Library Distribution Act (Government Code sections 14905, 14906, and 14907), the libraries listed below have contracted with the Department of General Services to serve as complete or selective depositories. They agree to provide adequate facilities for the shelving and use of the publications deposited with them, render reasonable service without charge to qualified patrons, and retain all publications received until authorized to dispose of them.

There are 127 depository libraries: 16 complete depositories and 111 selective depositories.

Complete Depository Libraries

One copy of each state publication as defined in Government Code section 14902 must be placed on deposit with each complete depository. Provisions of the State Administrative Manual authorize the California State Library to receive two copies. Complete contact information is available through the Government Publications web page at: <http://www.library.ca.gov/gps/index.html>

Law library depositories differ in having special document retention requirements pursuant to section 14909 of the California Government Code. Law Libraries are indicated in this list by the term “Law” in their entry. All depositories have agreed to make these documents available to the public during regular library service hours. Libraries are listed in order by city name.

FEDERAL DOCUMENT DEPOSITORY LIBRARIES IN CALIFORNIA

The Government Publications Section of the California State Library has been a federal depository since 1895, although its collection of United States documents reaches back over 100 years before that. The Section has been a Regional depository, the only one in California, since Congress established the Regional Depository System in 1962. As California's Regional depository the Government Publications Section works with the U.S. Government Printing Office to support the operations of ninety California selective federal depository libraries. This partnership ensures that California's federal depositories are dynamic participants in the Federal Depository Library Program, providing vital federal government information to the residents of California. The Government Publications Section maintains the most complete collection of federal documents in the state. This comprehensive collection is cataloged and made permanently accessible to the public by the Government Publications Section staff. United States documents issued from July, 1976 forward, and an increasing number of pre-1976 documents, are represented in the State Library's online catalog; and all titles can be found in the various indexes and card files available in the Section. Additional information about the Federal Depository Program is available at: <http://www.library.ca.gov/gps/gps02.html> .
